We know how the people stand, but alas! not the bankers. Have a convention and put the bankers on record. It begins to look as if a good many of our western bankers are not true blue on the question of the remonetization of silver. If any are not,

UTAH will willingly do anything to help out her sugar industry, or, rather, the people will. They are not willing, however, to vote the mill a subsidy If the people will visit the tax-collector's office they will note the number of poor widows who cannot afford to give a rich corporation four or five dollars a year just to help it put its enterprise upon a paying basis.
